FIRST in Michigan Robotics State Championship 2013

The FIRST Robotics Competition combines the excitement of a varsity sport with hands-on training in science and technology to help high school students discover how rewarding a career in engineering or technology can be. Remote-controlled robots, piloted by students and cheered on by thousands of screaming fans, go head-to-head in short games on the floor of a sports arena. In this special presentation, high school students compete in the Michigan final championship robotics competition. Students from Escanaba and Gladstone participated in this year's competition.

Memphis Soul

In Performance at the White House

President and Mrs. Obama host a celebration of the timeless classics of "Memphis Soul" in this special taped in the East Room of the White House. The all-star concert honors the memorable soul sounds from the mid- to late-1960s that came from Memphis, Tennessee, and legendary labels like Stax-Volt Records, which featured artists such as Al Green, Mavis Staples (pictured), Carla Thomas, Otis Redding and more.

Rajneeshpuram

In the early 1980s thousands of red-clad disciples followed Bhagwan Shree Rajneesh, a spiritual leader from India, to rural Oregon to build an ideal community they called Rajneeshpuram. In less than five years the would-be paradise devolved into a bizarre scenario of murder plots and poisoned salad bars, wire-tapping and election fraud. This film follows the unraveling of a utopian dream from its hopeful beginning to its criminal end.

Secrets of Henry VIII's Palace

Hampton Court is the ultimate royal pleasure palace — embodying the indulgent and grandiose kingship built by Cardinal Wolsey and developed by Henry VIII. The rooms chart King Henry VIII's decline from fit young warrior to bloated womanizer and recall the vivid stories of his queens. This program goes beneath the brick and stone to uncover an abundance of art and stories that bring Hampton Court alive.

America's Ancient Industry

Long before Stonehenge and the pyramids were built, a mining industry was flourishing near the Lake Superior shores. No one knows for sure who these ancient copper miners were, but thousands of mine pits and tools were left behind as evidence. This documentary explores this fascinating story and highlights Michigan's role.
